

SICKLE

This new machine was conceived to solve quickly the problem of weed cutting among the rows of trees without using any chemicals. The possibility to incline the blade disk from $+90^\circ$ to -60° makes it absolutely necessary in the maintenance of road edges and side ditches. It can operate by means of a hydraulic sensor with independent pump and tank or by means of a spring retraction device using the tractor oil only.

EQUIPMENT:

- Wheel with mechanical retraction.
